PHILADELPHIA.

A Child Outraged and Murdered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, September 8.—A frightful murder has just come to light. On Sunday evening last, Mary Marman, aged six years, residing with her parents in the northern part of the city, while sitting in front of the house with her mother, was accosted by a strange man who asked the direction of a certain street. The mother sent the child to show him, as it was only a few steps off, and the little girl had not been seen or heard of since till to-day, when she was found in a brick pond, outraged, with an arm dislocated and several cuts on her body. No clue yet of the murderer.

THE CHINESE EMBASSEY.

Mr. Burlingame desires the publication of the following card to remove a wide-spread misapprehension:

A CARD.

I find from letters received from numerous parties that it is inferred that I am ready to make contracts and give franchises in the name of the Government of China. I beg to say, that while with my associates I have exercised the broadest spirit of enquiry, I have refrained from doing anything of the kind. [Signed,]

ANSON BURLINGAME.

Trial of the Alleged Assassin of Thomas D'Arcey McGee—Member of Nova Scotia Parliament Unseated.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OTTAWA, September 8.—The trial of James Whalen for the murder of Hon. T. D. McGee, commenced this morning before Chief Justice Richards. The court was densely crowded, and there was much excitement in the city. James O'Reilly, of the Queen's court, appeared for the crown, and Messrs. J. H. Cameron, Kenneth McKenzie and M. C. Cameron for the defense, assisted by M. O. Farrell, the celebrated criminal lawyer of Quebec. The prisoner appeared pale and morose, but answered boldly to his name. After the jury had been sworn, Mr. O'Reilly opened the case, stating that the crown expected to prove that the murder was planned by a band of conspirators in Montreal, and that prisoner was the instrument chosen to carry the crime into effect. He spoke at considerable length, detailing the facts of the case. The defense made no opening speech. A large number of witnesses were examined for the crown. The most important evidence given is that of Lacox, who swore he saw Whalen shoot McGee. The other evidence was circumstantial, and differs in no material degree from that elicited at the inquest, but is very damaging to Whalen. It is said the crown will put a woman in the box to swear that Whalen told her he murdered McGee. The trial will last four or five days.

HALIFAX, September 8.—Blanchard, the Union member of Parliament of Nova Scotia, has been unseated. The election committee reported his election illegal.

Attorney General Wilkins, in reply to a letter to the Lieutenant Governor, asking him to explain his recent disloyal sentiments in Parliament, disclaims uttering any disloyal sentiments, and says he dreads annexation with the United States above all things, but believes the confederation of the Colonies tends that way.

SAVANNAH, GA.

Speech of A. A. Bradley, Colored, the Expelled Senator.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAVANNAH, September 7.—A. A. Bradley, colored, who was lately expelled from the Georgia Senate, spoke at a Republican meeting this evening. He said Clift and other carpet baggers and Yankees are not to be trusted, and advised the negroes not to trust the white people, especially the Yankees, who were the meanest people on earth. He doubted if these mulattoes could be trusted, as the white blood in their veins might gain the mastery. He said the recent action of the Georgia Legislature in turning out negroes would increase the majority for Grant. At first he thought the negro members would draw revolver and assert their rights in blood, which would have benefitted Democrats. He was glad they had done otherwise. He thought the coming election, whichever way it went, would cause bloodshed. The whole speech was of a rampant and contradictory character, many hearers being doubtful which side the speaker supported. He spoke nearly the whole evening. About four hundred persons were present. The meeting passed off quietly.

First Private Execution in London—The Cabmen Strike—A Member of Parliament Rebuked—A War Rumor in Paris—Insurrection in New Zealand.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The boy Mackay, nineteen years of age, was hanged to-day at Newgate, within the walls of the prison, for the murder of his mistress. The only persons present were the officers of the law and a few members of the press. This is the first private execution in London under the new law concerning capital punishment.

The strike of cabmen still continues and causes great inconvenience to the public. The press strongly denounces the action of the drivers, whose proceedings, however, so far have been orderly.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Times to-day publishes a letter from Mr. Roeback, M. P., in which he justifies and re-affirms the language used by him in regard to the United States at the Sheffield Cutters' dinner. The Times replies to Mr. Roeback, and in the course of its article administers the following rebuke: "In a public reception, given to the representative of the United States, when it was the object of all present to cultivate a feeling of good will, it was an injury to both countries for a man in Mr. Roeback's position to use the language of vehement disparagement. We only hope that Mr. Johnson will not fail to notice that the insult has been repudiated by English public opinion with entire unanimity. He may form an idea, however of the honor in which we hold his country by the prompt recoil from Mr. Roeback's words he everywhere witnesses."

"MARSHAL MACMAHON, Duke of Magenta," says the Algiers correspondent of the Journal de Paris, "looks like a man of forty-five, although he is much older. His face has of late lost that exceedingly gloomy expression which used to characterize it during the last years which the marshal passed in France. His gait is very quick, and his form as erect as that of a young lieutenant of the Guard on parade. The Duchess is still a very charming lady. She looks as fresh and rosy as if she were twenty five, and not forty-four. During the famine her indefatigable activity in relieving the sufferings of the poor Arabs was one of the few bright spots of that gloomy period."

STANDING JUMPS.—The Caledonia Club of Boston, at their recent festival, only recorded 9 feet 10½ inches and 9 feet 8½ inches as the distances of the standing jumps that took the prize. At the Philadelphia festival, it will be remembered, the prize jumps were 10 feet 5 inches. No one yet on the Atlantic seaboard has come up to the 14 feet 1¼ inches jumped at Milwaukie.

Over the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway.

ALLIANCE, OHIO, Sept, 7, 1868.

I left Pittsburgh at 2 p. m. to-day, and arrived at this place for supper, but wishing for the first time to travel all the length of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad by daylight, I stopped off, intending to take the express train which reaches this place a little before six in the morning.

Passing rapidly down the picturesque and populous valley of the Ohio twenty-six miles, we reach Rochester, a busy and growing town on the bank of the river, just above the mouth of the Beaver river. On the opposite side of the Beaver is Bridgeport, and a short distance below that, on a bluff of moderate elevation, stands the old town or borough of Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county. A short distance up the Beaver, on the west side, is Fallston, so called, I believe, because the water which is drawn from the river at the falls, some distance above, is made to operate a good deal of machinery of various kinds at that place. Next above, on the east side, is New Brighton, a pretty town stretching about a mile along the Beaver river. It is growing fast. Just opposite the upper end of New Brighton is still another town, known as Old Brighton, but more generally called Falls of Beaver. The situation is very pretty, and so rapid is its growth that, although it is called Old Brighton, it looks newer than any of the others. This congeries of towns at and near the mouth of the Beaver, are all within a radius of four miles. They are the seat of considerable manufacturing industry, and are improving, but not so rapidly as some other towns farther west.

Passing through Enon, near which we enter the State of Ohio, we come to the sober old town of Columbia. From the car windows it has quite a pleasant appearance; but the wave of progress does not seem to have reached it. It is the county seat of Columbiana county. The country between the Beaver and Columbiana is somewhat rough and stony, and much of the soil is thin. It is, however, rich in coal and fire clay, and, in some places, iron ore. We passed one furnace, but I did not inquire to whom it belonged.

Salem, a large and thriving town towards the western border of Columbiana county, seemed to be the most enterprising and thriving place between Pittsburgh and Alliance, and withal a handsome town, the dwellings good and the streets well shaded. Numerous manufacturing establishments are seen near the railroad, some of them quite extensive. Agricultural implements and machinery are constructed here in large quantities, and steam engines and other machinery are manufactured. Salem seems to be a very progressive place both in population and business. There are some towns between that and this of which I need not speak particularly.

In 1853 I was in Alliance for the first time. At that time the magnificent road over which I am journeying was not completed, neither was the southern end of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland road completed; but the former was finished some distance beyond this place, and the latter from here to Cleveland. These two great roads cross each other at this point, and the very existence of this town was owing to that fact. At that time there was an excellent eating house for passengers, well built and well kept. Besides this there were perhaps not a dozen other tenements, and the whole patch of cleared ground was a wilderness of stumps. There were heavy forests through this region in those days.

Now, fifteen years afterwards, I find a town of five thousand inhabitants, and the appearance on all sides of very considerable business, both mercantile and manufacturing. Walking up the principal street after supper, looking at the numerous fine stores, &c., I came to a large and very handsome three story building of brick, not quite finished. I inquired of some gentlemen standing opposite as to its object. They informed me that it was an Opera House. The lower story is divided into store rooms; the second into offices and the third is to be the hall—the opera house, and really it will be a fine large hall.

I next visited the Alliance College, standing on the summit of the highest ground about the place, although it can hardly be called a hill by a Pennsylvanian. The situation is beautiful, and commands a fine view of the town and the surrounding level country. The building is new—the institution having only been founded last year—of ample dimensions, and three stories high. There are about one hundred students of both sexes, who are commingled in the classes, and all branches pertaining to a thorough education are taught. I had not time to call upon any of the faculty, nor was it a proper time of day to call; but I had a little talk with a gentleman I met on the ground. Everything about it gave the impression that it is a good institution.

The next and last place I visited was the rolling mill, owned by a joint stock company. All the principal operators are stock holders. Everything was at rest when I called, except a few puddling furnaces, for it was about sun set. I accosted one of the proprietors—I think he was the head puddler—who showed me all around, and gave me all the information I wanted. The works are exclusively devoted to the manufacture of rails, of which they turn out from forty to forty-five tons a day. About two-thirds of the stock they use is composed of old, worn-out rails, and one-third—of which they make the heads—is new iron of their own manufacture. I examined their finished rails. They are from 27 to 35 feet in length, very straight and perfect, and the flanges free from cracks. They looked like good rails, and the gentleman who showed me round said they were unable to keep pace with their orders. They procure their coal from the Hammondsville mines at the heads of Yellow Creek, between this and the Ohio river, on the Pittsburgh and Cleveland Railroad. This point, at the crossing of two railroads on which the traffic is enormous, is an admirable one for the business of re-rolling rails. They roll each piece of old rail into a flat bar before they 'pile" it.

I did not think I would say so much when I began to write, but I trust that what I have said is not devoid of interest. I shall not speak particularly of this railroad until I shall have gone all the way over it, further than to bear my testimony to the kind courtesy of Mr. Theodore Gray, the conductor of the train on which I came. It is a pleasure to travel under the care and conduct of such men.

O'FLAHERTY.

A Rich and Racy Letter—Mr. O'Flaherty—His Views of Political Matters—How to make Dimmykratic Voters—The Financial Question from an Irish Dimmykrat's Standpoint—The Rights and Wrongs of the Naygur—Something Concerning Seymour, Vallandigham and Thad. Stevens.

[The following letter—through design, accident, or blunder, we cannot tell which—came into our hands instead of going into the mail bags en route for Kildowery, which we learn from the Gazetteer is a parish about twenty-five miles from Cork, and in the county of that name. The seal was broken before reaching us, and it took the combined ingenuity of the whole corps of editors, the foreman and three of the compositors having the largest experience in setting "blind copy," to decipher the letter and its superscription. Not feeling certain as to the intention of the writer or his messenger in letting the epistle stray into our hands, we have taken the liberty of putting it into type, feeling that our labors in deciphering the hieroglyphics of Mr. O'Flaherty have given us some rights as a discoverer. At the same time, that no harm may be done by this course, we shall send a printed copy to Mr. McGinnis, in Kildowery, who will, we venture to hope, find greater satisfaction in reading his cousin's letter in good type than in the original hen tracks.]

To Mr. Teddy McGinness, Eshquire, Kildowery, County Cork, Ireland. From his Cousin, Dennis O'Flaherty.

DEAR TEDDY:

My pin in my hand I am taking
To write yez this bit of a scrawl,
An' hopin' in health it will find yez,
Az, plaze God, its lavin' us all;
An' Ted, I'll be afther inquirin'
How yez doin' this bright summer day?
How are the pigs an' the childer',
An' the rest of yez over the say,
Teddy my boy?

Its meself wud be happy to see yez
Put your good looking phiz thru' the dure;
Its meself that wud throt out whishky
Till you shlept like a king on the flure.
I'd give yez my bed but for Judy,
Whose faylins' I'm afraid it wud hurt,
But we'd empty the bottle together.
An' together we'd shlape in the dhirt,
Teddy my boy.

Shure, Ted, it's an ill'gant counthry,
There is praties an' whishky galore,
An' mighty good pig for the atin',
An' money to buy it ashtore.
An' for clothes, bedad I've a breeches
Wid niver a patch or a hole,
An' to mass Judy goes wid a bonnet
An' a feather as black as a coal,
Teddy my boy.

An' election times, Teddy, my darlint!
'Twud make your eyes shtick out a fut,
To see how the greenbacks are flyin'
An' how quick in our pockets they're put.
Shure what is the use of a ballot
If to sell it you always refuse?
The way is to pocket the money,
An' then vote just as you choose,
Teddy my boy.

An' that brings me round to my sthory
That I'm scratchin' this letther to say;
Election time's comin' an', Teddy,
Its wanted yez are right away,
For Dimmykrats are not so plenty,
But we want all the boys over, shure,
To shwing the shillaly, dhrink whishky,
An' shove in the votes for Saymore,
Teddy my boy.

Niver mind about risidince, Teddy,
Shure your risidence is undher your hat;
Divil one have yez got in Kildowery;
Lave to me all such matthers as that.
Shure my sister's son, Paddy Muldoney,
Has a frind in New York who will shwear
That yez worked by his side an' dug cellars
In Amerriky many a year,
Teddy my boy.

He'll fix up your papers so nately
That ye'll think yez Amerrykin born;
In a good shute of clothes ye'll be struttin',
Instead of your breeches all torn.
When up to the polls ye are marchin',
Shure the naygurs will all hold their whight;
If some blaygard axes impudent questions,
Just tip him a shmell of your fisht,
Teddy my boy.

Och, Teddy, now don't yez be sthaying,
Hang you furniture on to your sthick,
An' sthep out for Cork an' take passage
For Amerriky sudden an' quick.
For the country will go to the divil
Under naygur and radikle shway,
Unless saved by the votes and shillelays,
Ov the boys fresh from over the say,
Teddy my boy.

The're atin' us up wid their taxes,
An shtamps, an' the divil knows what,
(Though, barrin' the dhuty on whisky, Niver a tax out of me they have got.)
They've given us green rags for money,
(Its a fishtfull I wish that I had),
An' we're shtarving on beef and corn whisky,
—Which is mighty good shtarving, bedad,
Teddy my boy.

But that's not the worst of it, Teddy,
The naygur's a cityzen now,
Can vote like a Dimmykrat white man,
An' shtick up for his rights in a row.
So pervarted is public opinion
Tisn't safe to crack open his shkull,
An' the hair on a Dimmykrat's cranium
Is no better than afrikin wool,
Teddy my boy.

In the mornin' when lavin' the shanty
Judy schrames out "Dinnis, don't go!
Some murtherin' thafe of a naygur
Will be killin' my Dinnis, I know,
An' then comin' down to the shanty
An' marryin' me right out of hand!"—
That a naygur should marry my Judy,
Teddy my boy.

But we'll soon give the scoundrels a drubbin'
Vallandigham's now to the fore,
Thad. Stevens has gone to blue blazes
An' bedad we've a frind in Seymore.
So pack up your duds in a hurry,
Not forgetin' to shpit in your fisht
An' lay hould on your blackthorn shillaly,
An' we'll soon give the naygurs a twisht,
Teddy my boy.

Your Cousin,
DINIS O'FLAHERTY.

GUSTAV FREYTAG, the author of "Debit and Credit," lives in a small two-story house at Gotha. You can often see him promenading there in the afternoon with a handsome little boy, the orphan son of his sister, whom he educates. He looks like an aristocrat, but has very little sympathy with the aspirations of the German nobility. Still he is no decided democrat. His parliamentary career has disgusted him. He will hardly be again a candidate for a seat in the North German Parliament. Duke Ernst, of Saxe-Coburg, is his intimate friend. The two men may often be seen together, and when they promenade in the park, Freytag looks much more dignified than the sovereign Prince who walks by his side.

ADELAIDE RISTORI says in a letter, published in a Turin newspaper, that nothing surprised her so much as the symptoms of considerable wealth which she found in the United States in nearly all small cities, and frequently even in villages. "But for the climate," she says at the close of the letter, "North America would be the finest country on the earth." She says in the same letter that she had at first looked forward with considerable anxiety to the manner in which American audiences would listen to actors speaking a tongue of which most Americans were entirely ignorant; but the very first performance satisfied her that her fears, in this respect, were groundless.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE FORT DONELSON OF 1868.

THE VOICE OF VERMONT.

AIR—"Rally Round the Flag."

On this first September day
Old Vermont has had her say,
And has spoken loud and strong for Grant and Freedom;
And the burden of her song,
Sung by thirty thousand strong,
Is "Three cheers for Grant and Colfax, and for Freedom!"

CHORUS—The Union forever,
Hurrah! boys, hurrah, &c., &c.

How the Rebel host will stare
To find Seymour and Blair,
Spite of all that Val. and Pendleton could do,
Have a voter's list so scant,
That the friends of General Grant
Can say Vermont's unanimous for Freedom!
CHORUS—The Union forever, &c., &c.

Among her mountains tall
Like a silver clarion-call,
Rings and echoes sharp the glorious shout for Freedom!
And the continent across,
Freedom's gain and Treason's loss
Will be hailed with joy by every son of Freedom!
CHORUS—The Union forever, &c., &c.

The brave Green Mountain State,
By her vote, has sealed the fate
Of the Rebocratic* nominees and party;
And, some cold November day,
Flat upon the ground we'll lay,
The rag-tag and bob-tail Rebel party!
CHORUS—The Union forever, &c., &c.

Rebocratic—This term may be applied to a political cabal peculiar to the United States.

—It is reported that the Chinese on the Russian border like the English missionaries very much, and extend a cordial welcome to them. The main reason is that the missionaries distribute Bibles bound in leather, and the Chinese make shoes with the binding, thus saving their soles at the English expense.

—Victoria, at last accounts, was enjoying herself very much at Lucerne. John Brown is in her suite, conspicuous by his Highland costume. —A prize of 100 guineas is offered for an essay on kleptomania, "with a view to determine whether a passion for thieving should be held as disqualifying for employments of trust and authority under the Crown; also to inquire under what circumstances this mischievous propensity becomes criminal." The essays are to be sent to Dr. David Wilson, Brook street, Grosvenor square.

THE cultivation of the orange in Florida is stated to be more extensive than can be inferred from the report of the Bureau of Agriculture. From 75,000 to 100,000 orange trees were set out last year, of which 30,000 were planted out on Flint river alone; and, in 1865 and 1866, at least 50,000 were transplanted and budded in East and Middle Florida. The price, instead of being $15 to $20 per thousand on the trees, as stated, should have been $25 to $30, and some choice lots sold as high as $35. The orange grows wild all over Florida, and good trees, when transplanted and budded, bear 500 to 2,500 sweet oranges each.

THE WINE CROP of France, it is stated, will this year prove favorable to the interests of the producers. In the Southern districts of France the wine growers complain that the heat has been rather too excessive, and that the young vines have been burnt up. From the central districts and those of the Loire and Rhine, however, the reports say that the vintage will be a good one. In Burgundy, also, the wine growers are confident of a good crop.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about at a stand last evening with three feet in the channel by the Monongahela pier mark. The weather continues cloudy and settled, with every appearance of more rain.

The Bayard left for Buffington yesterday to bring up a number of coal boatmen. It is not likely, however, that she will attempt to enter the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade until there is more water.

The Glasgow, in command of Capt. Andy Robinson, Jr., is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day.

—The passenger agents of St. Paul, of the two rival lines, are having a warm contest for passengers.

—The Dubuque papers notice the fact that grain has commenced moving in large quantities from the upper river.

—The Louisiana, having all the freight she could carry on the water, was to have left Cairo for New Orleans Saturday night.

—The Ruth and Lady Gay are about to form a weekly line from Cairo to New Orleans. The Virginia will run from Louisville to New Orleans.

—Capt. C. G. Pearce is now president of the Cincinnati and Louisville mail line. Capt. Frank Carter will be superintendent of the line at Louisville.

—Captain Ed. Ford, of New Albany, has invented a new steamboat wheel that, it is believed, will supersede the present style of wheel used in the propulsion of boats.

—Captain Amos E. Davis left Wheeling Friday for Buffington to see what prospects there were in getting his boat, the Wm. Butler, off on the recent rise. The Butler has been aground there several weeks.

—The steamer Argosy left Gallipolis on Saturday at daylight, with two barges containing railroad iron, and a load of salt on the boat, all out of the Kanawha. The railroad iron is for Henderson, Ky., and the salt for Cincinnati.

—The Tahlequan got at Cincinnati for New Orleans 300 tons at the following rates: Bacon, 45 to 50c; light freight, 50 to 75c; whisky, $2; pork, $1,40 per bbl. She will hereafter run between New Orleans add Shreveport, in Red river.

—W. McClure, engineer on the Dispatch, accidentally fell overboard in the Kentucky river near the first lock, Wednesday night, and was drowned before assistance could reach him. He leaves a wife, but no children. He formerly ran in the packet trade, and resided in Carrollton, Ky.

—The St. Croix river trade is growing in importance. A new and elegant little steamer is being built for it. She is 120 feet long, 22 feet beam, and 4 feet hold, with a tonnage of 200 tons. It is expected that she will run on eighteen inches of water. Her engines will be forty-horse power. Her finishing will be perfect in every respect, so as to make her a first-class steamer, calculated to accommodate a large number of passengers. She is being outfitted at Dubuque.

—The St. Louis Republican says: The restaurant system of feeding passengers on steamboats appears to be gaining ground. Already it has been established on the Alton and Memphis packets, and to-day it is to be inaugurated on the Keokuk packet Harry Johnson. There is really nothing to be said on the subject, as it belongs exclusively to the economy of running a boat, and the owners of a steamboat are fully competent to decide what is to their best advantage.

—The New Albany Ledger, of Friday, says: Gen. G. Weitzel, U. S. A., who has charge of the Louisville canal improvement, has made arrangements to remove here with his family. The General secured the residence formerly occupied by Colonel E. A. Maginness, and will take possession of it next week. It is the purpose of the Government to enlarge the Louisville canal, and to build a wing dam at the mouth of Falling Run to increase the depth of water on Portland bar. The work contemplated will be superintended by Gen. Weitzel, and will occupy his attention two or three years. During that time he expects to make this city his home.

IT IS the general impression at Washington that a quorum of Congress will be present on the twenty-first, when another recess will be taken, to a day late in October, or immediately after the November election.

DEMOCRATS who feel anxious about the Maine election may be comforted by their friend Hon. S. S. Cox, who has been making Democratic speeches in that State. He says: "I tell you, sir, it is no use shutting our eyes to plain facts. Popular enthusiasm for GRANT is irresistible. He will sweep everything before him."

◆

FRANK BLAIR is announced for a political speech at Washington City next week. Unless our Democratic friends can put up with declarations and admissions very damaging to themselves, they would do well to confine their candidate at once to a very rigid preliminary diet of plain bread and water, and keep him entirely cool and protected from all disturbing annoyances. In that event, he may succeed in making a speech which will do no harm to his party.

◆

HAVE the soldiers, who put the rebellion down, forgotten how they felt when, while in the field, they heard from the Copperheads at home? Do they remember the fire in the rear from VALLANDIGHAM and PENDLETON and SEYMOUR? Can they forget how they pledged themselves to remember and honor those, who aided and encouraged the Union cause by their influence at home, and how they swore to visit a just retribution upon those other traitors who were striving to defeat them? The time has come now for these things to be remembered.

◆

IT IS STATED THAT GEN. GRANT and his principal officers regard the speedy outbreak of an Indian war, including nearly all the tribes of the plains, as imminent. Gen. SHERMAN has asked for a large increase of his cavalry force and it has been granted. PHIL. SHERIDAN was himself beleagured in one of the remote forts last week, and repulsed the savages with difficulty, SHERMAN has also Generals A. P. SMITH and HARNEY under his command, and the most energetic and comprehensive measures are in progress to make the unavoidable struggle a brief one, and to ensure a result such as forever to preclude the possibility of its renewal. The first objects of attention are the protection of emigrants and of the Pacific railways, and next an aggressive campaign against the enemy. How that is to be conducted may be inferred from the fact that Gen. GRANT fully comprehends the demands of the situation, and proposes to make thorough work of it. With this view also, his return Eastward is postponed until he can have a personal conference with all the leading officers to be engaged.

WE UNDERSTAND that Mr. W. H. CORKHILL, the duly appointed General Agent of the "National Lincoln Monument Association" is in the city and purposes to canvass the cities immediately for subscriptions to this admirable project.

It will be remembered that this monument is to be a column erected at Washington of granite surmounted by a statue of the Great President, and adorned with other statues of distinguished military and civil defenders of the Union. All the statues, to be of bronze, will be cast from rebel guns, appropriated by Congress for that purpose. While the remaining cost of the entire structure, as well as of the statues, is to be borne by the voluntary contributions of the people, it is believed that the personal friends, of each of the distinguished gentlemen whose statues will have place thereon, will be happy to avail themselves of the action of the Association in inviting contributions specially, to be devoted to the cost of that peculiar figure. The collections by Mr. CORKHILL, in this vicinity, are, therefore, to be entirely expended in the erection of a statue of Hon. E. M. STANTON, the late Secretary of War, which will have a prominent place when the monument shall be completed. Mr. STANTON's numerous friends in this vicinity are, therefore, assured of this disposition of such funds as they may subscribe.

A COMMITTEE from the Tennessee Legislature is on its way to Washington, to invoke the aid of the Federal Executive in maintaining the laws of that State. A proposition is also pending in the same Legislature to empower the Governor to call the loyal militia of the State into active service, for the same purpose, in every district where the rights of all citizens cannot be adequately protected by the ordinary civil process. A difference of opinion prevails among members, as to the adjustment of the provisions of the bill, several of which are of great intrinsic importance, but these differences are likely to be reconciled under the unsatisfactory results which will attend the application to ANDREW JOHNSON. In the event that the bill should pass, the Governor announces his purpose to call out only the white militia first, and it is also understood that any State forces thus put into the field will speedily be mustered into the Federal service, and placed under the control of the regular officers of the United States Army. In view of this probability, the feeling of opposition among the citizens of Tennessee, to any call upon the militia, will considerably abate. There can be no doubt that the local resources of each State should first be looked to, in the enforcement of the local law, before an appeal could properly be made for the benefit of the Federal guarantees; while there is as little doubt that, in some sort, a military intervention for the preservation of peace will become necessary in other Southern States besides Tennessee before the first of November.

THE TREASURY STATEMENT.

The monthly statement of the Secretary exhibits very clearly the progress made in funding the public debt and in solidifying the national finances. Of the total increase of debt, over $12,000,000, over $3,000,000 are represented by the new railway bonds, not quite $3,000,000 in gold certificates of deposit bearing no interest, and $7,000,000 paid in gold for Alaska. Of the increase again, about $1,000,000 are represented in the conversion of three-year compound interest notes into simple three per cent. certificates. Nearly $6,000,000 of matured debt has been presented and probably the larger part funded into 5-20 bonds. The volume of the latter, bearing six per cent. coin interest, has been increased over $8,000,000 in the month. Of cash on hand, gold has increased about $9,000,000, while the large payments have made a reduction of $11,000,000 in the paper funds.

This statement shows that the Secretary has nearly absorbed the matured debt, funding the most of it in gold-interest bonds, that he is rapidly taking up the other balances of floating debt, and that his metallic reserves are being largely increased. Accomplishing so much, in the face of payments unusually large for current expenditure, the Secretary is entitled to commendation for his faithful and successful management of our financial affairs, and for the decided progress made in the profitable direction of specie resumption. That this is his leading object, and that he keeps it steadily, no matter how distantly, in view, is not to be doubted. Contraction being suspended, it only remains for him to get all his obligations well under control, strengthen his metallic basis to the utmost, and thus he will be prepared at no very distant day to urge the duty and feasibility of a resumption upon Congress.

BLAIRISM IN GEORGIA.

The rebels in Georgia have taken FRANK BLAIR's suggestion, and carry it into effect by the expulsion of twenty-five colored members from the lower branch of their Legislature. This has been accomplished, as we stated yesterday, in defiance of the State Constitution, the Civil Rights Law, and the Reconstruction and enabling acts of Congress. It pretends to justification in pursuance of the constitutional clause making each House the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its members. By that, and by nothing else, do the rebels attempt to support their case—and this, notwithstanding the same Constitution defines the qualifications of a Representative as follows:

> "The Representatives shall be citizens of the United States who have attained the age of twenty-one years, and who, after the first election under this Constitution, shall have been citizens of this State for one year, and for six months resident of the counties from which elected."

This instrument prescribes no disqualifications by reason of race or color. Citizens of the United States are defined by the first section of the Civil Rights Act to be "all persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed."

It is clearly evident, therefore, that in the expulsion of these members, the rebel majority have violated the laws of the Union as also both the Federal and State Constitutions. They do not pretend that the expelled members were not legally elected, or that they were otherwise incompetent to hold seats; they have turned them out because of their color, and because their own majority has enabled them to perpetrate an arbitrary outrage, in the interests of a fresh rebel ascendancy over the once oppressed and helpless race. For the present they are successful in this, but their policy cannot be permanently established until the State Constitution shall be again amended, so that its terms shall correspond to the rebel desire, and by expressly excluding the colored race from their existing legal rights. Until so amended, it continues, under the letter and spirit of both Constitution and laws, to be the right of any citizen, irrespective of color, to enjoy the suffrage or to be a candidate for any civil office.

Blot out the XIVth amendatory article, and no man can doubt that some of these reconstructed States would re-define and limit the right of suffrage to their white citizens. As long as that article stands, the clause limiting the right of Federal representation to that population which possesses the suffrage, will be a powerful, and ultimately, after the heats of the present moment subside, a sufficient inducement to those States to enlarge that popular basis to the utmost. Without the constitutional limit now established, the whites of the South would, perhaps universally, again restrict all political rights to themselves, nor would they long delay in doing it. But as the Constitution is, and as it will remain unless BLAIR be elected, Southern interests and Southern prejudices will lead in opposite ways, and, with the abatement of partizan rancor and the complete final extinguishment of all hopes for the lost cause in the election of Gen. GRANT, these prejudices will be pocketed, and the true interests of the people will come to control the whole question. Until then, while such outrages as the one just committed at Atlanta may be remediless, they afford to the loyal North ample proof of the reviving spirit of the rebellion under the exhortations of BLAIR, and to the freedmen a significant warning to vote so as to secure the vindication of their rights.

ADJUSTMENT OF TAXATION.

The Fourth Demand of the Democratic National Platform is expressed in the words following:

> "Equal taxation of every species of property, according to its real value, including goverment bonds, and other public securities."

This rhetorical generalization, brought to the test of practical application, may be interpreted to mean little or much, one thing or another. As a matter of fact, taxation never has been equalized in any civilized nation in accordance with the prevalent Democratic exposition of this dictum, and never will be until all valuable past experience shall be ignored, and common sense shall be rigidly excluded from all share in the management of public affairs. In barbarous times and countries the closest approaches are made to this Democratic system of equalization; but in exact proportion as communities advance in the development of material resources, in the knowledge of the higher industries which constitute the germ and the flower of the best civilization, and in the apprehension and use of the most enlarged and salutary principles of civil administration, they institute whole series of sharp discriminations designed to impose the largest ratable share of the public burdens upon the opulent, thus relieving numerous classes who have about as much as they can do to take suitable care of themselves, their wives and their little ones. Such discriminations, to such an end, may not be Democratic, in the existing partizan understanding of that much-abused term, but they will stand the test of the severest scrutiny, and the more they are examined the more will they challenge and receive the commendation of all just minded individuals.

In Pennsylvania the State tax of $1,344,091.14 on real estate has been, since 1862, abolished, and the personal tax for State purposes has been reduced to $313,223.19, with a fair prospect that the whole will be relinquished at an early day. Nevertheless, since 1860, according to the last official statement, the State debt has been reduced by the sum of $4,318,210.03. These gratifying results were not accomplished by augmenting levies upon the personal property of individual citizens, but by laying the burden upon rich railway and other corporations. In consideration of the valuable franchises these companies enjoy at the hands of the Commonwealth, and of their exemption from certain local assessments which cannot easily be apportioned upon their respective properties, they are virtually made to assume the ultimate payment of the public debt and most of the current expenses.

Unless the Fourth Democratic Demand, above recited, was intended to receive a very different interpretation from the obvious one, the Democrats must design in case they shall be restored to power in Pennsylvania, to break up this arrangement, to relieve the corporations from the load they carry, and to distribute it uniformly over all the real and personal property within the Commonwealth. We judge that farmers, mechanics, and all men possessed only of small resources, will fail to perceive on what solid grounds of public policy this horizontal apportionment of taxation can be justified.

Turn now to the existing adjustment of direct national taxes. All branches of industry, except those which produce articles of luxury, are exempted from taxation. Farmers, mechanics, miners and manufacturers, pay no taxes upon their business, beyond the paltry sums exacted from a portion of them for licenses. Farms, shops, factories, stores and houses, make no contributions to the National Treasury. All household goods, except pianos and silver ware, over forty ounces for each family, go untaxed. Carriages used for pleasure and gold watches are assessed, while other vehicles and watches are not. All yearly incomes which mount above one thousand dollars are taxed, but all under that sum are untouched.

Do the Democrats, in case they shall ever get control of the Government, mean to uproot these discriminations, and assess farms, tenements, shops, factories, and all articles of personal property equally, according to their value? Do they mean to assess the poor man's silver watch in proportion to the rich man's gold and jeweled one? Do they purpose to tax the poor woman's dozen of silver tea spoons in proportion to the abundant plate wherewith a millionaire garnishes his mahogany? Do they design to tax the poor person's bed in proportion to the rich man's piano? If these are their ideas, they have repudiated all the wise lessons of experience on the subject of taxation and gone back in their conceptions to a condition bordering upon savagery.

They must mean this, or they are playing deceitfully upon words. They would deserve the pillory, if, entrusted again with the administration, they should "keep the word of promise to the ear, but break it to the hope," by impudently saying we will not tax capital invested in farms, in animals, in factories, in dwellings, in mechanical implements, in machinery for manufacturing, and in government bonds and other public securities, and, consequently, we keep our pledge to tax every species of property equally.

But there is another aspect to the question of capital invested in national bonds and other kinds of public securities, which should be contemplated.

Money borrowed is capital in the hands of the borrower, not of the lender. It is taxed in his hands precisely as it would be if it were his own. To tax it again in the hands of the lender, would clearly be unjust, as well as highly impolitic. Take an illustration from the laws of Pennsylvania, as they now stand. A. borrows money of B. to buy a farm or build a house or shop, A. is assessed on the property exactly as he would have been if he had paid for the land or building with his own money, and B. is taxed for money at interest; this tax amounting in almost every instance to six per cent. annually. Here are two evils. The same property is taxed twice, which is unequal; and all lenders are constrained to increase the rates at which they will lend in order to cover the taxes. This principle is not vitiated by the fact that some lenders exact extra interest enough to cover the taxes, and then, by making false returns to assessors avoid the payment thereof.

If a government borrows money, the capital practically becomes its own, just as in the case of an individual borrower. It may invest the sums borrowed in cannon, ships of war, public buildings, the wages of men employed by it—but the moment the money passes from the hands of the lender into the National Treasury, it is public property, and not liable to taxation, either directly or indirectly.

If the Democrats include under the term, "other public securities," bonds issued by railway and other improvements companies, their policy is equally objectionable. If a railway company borrows money it goes into the road-bed, or superstructure, or rolling stock, or buildings requisite to the transaction of business. All these things the proper company is assessed for in one form or another, and is made to pay taxes upon. To turn round and assess the lender for the same capital can be excused or justified by no man until he has first set aside the suggestions both of common sense and a wise expediency.

Persons engaged in all the ordinary branches of business expect to make from twenty to thirty per cent. upon all the capital they have invested, whether it be actually their own, or borrowed. Their knowledge, tact, enterprise and industry, put with the money, make that, in general estimation, a fair amount of remuneration. Capital loaned produces only from three to ten per cent. unless the circumstances are extraordinary. The judgment of the whole mass of business men throughout the world establishes this discrimination as sound and profitable.

Every business man comprehends that to tax capital invested "in government bonds and other public securities" equally with "every other species of property," provided other sorts of property are taxed at all, would make an end of public credit; would leave the government in any emergency entirely to its own current resources, and would stop the building of so much as an additional mile of railway unless the property holders along the proposed route were able and willing to take the stock for it and put in the money as the work should progress.

If any political party happening to be in power, should presume to tax farmers owning $500,000 worth of land "according to the actual value," in the same proportion as National Banks having that amount of capital are taxed, we are morally certain that political party would find itself in a decided minority at the following election. If that party should take off from the banks, and put on to the farmers, so as to make all taxes equal, the dissatisfaction would be not much less.

Take another view. Suppose the School Directors of any district in this county or elsewhere should have occasion to borrow five or ten thousand dollars to put into a building, for which they were authorized to issue bonds payable in ten or twenty years. What would be the effect of going beyond taxing the interest derived from those bonds and taxing the capital invested in them? Simply this, that whoever had money to lend would demand a higher rate of interest than he otherwise would, in order to cover the taxes. If he could not get it, he would not lend. What the people of the district might gain in taxes, they would lose in increased rate of interest. This holds good in respect to all manner of public securities. Public securities put upon the market are liable to the smae laws as private securities, and cannot escape therefrom. If the Democratic leaders think otherwise, they have too little sense to deal with public questions. If they understand the facts of the case, and in violation thereof are pandering to the lowest passions of the ignorant or depraved, they are totally unfit to be trusted anywhere or with anything.

The federal government has from the beginning steadily taxed the income derived from interest upon its bonds, from interest on all other public securities and all private securities, just as income from any other source. The bondholder pays five per cent. upon all his gains, exactly as does the farmer, the mechanic, the manufacturer, the merchant, the banker, the lawyer, and the priest. That is equal taxation.

The system of taxation demanded by the Democratic Platform would tend to crush laboring men and men of small means. It is totally destitute of reason and justice, and will never be allowed to go into operation.

MR. PENDLETON has at last got an opinion "subject to future consideration" on the question of taxing the bonds. When asked at Norwalk, O., the other day, how he would remedy the "abuse of bond-exemption," in case the Democracy should obtain power, he said, in substance, that he would have the General Government give its assent to the right of State taxation, admitting in effect that this assent would be essential. He met the next objection, that this right of State taxation should have been known and considered in the making of the contract by the following dodge:

> "That is an undecided question. My own opinion is that the General Government may change its rate of taxation after the bonds are sold. I do not believe there is anything in the law or the nature of the case, amounting to a contract, that the government bonds now extant shall not be taxed above a certain rate. The government changes its rule or rate of taxation on all other property, why not on bonds the same? This opinion I hold subject to future modification. However, if the General Government can not legally give its consent to State taxation of its bonds after the bonds are once sold, then the General Government ought itself to tax its bonds to an amount equal to that average tax both Federal and State levied on other property."

This admits that the bonds are already taxed, but that he would have that tax increased. The admission is interesting.

Infallible Cure for Dysentry.

Dr Page, of Washington, communicates to the Republican of that city the following simple remedy, long known in family practice, and which was recently tried in the camp of the New York 22d regiment, where there were from eighty to one hundred cases daily, and with rapid cures in every case:

Recipe—In a teacup half full of vinegar, dissolve as much salt as it will take up, leaving a little excess of salt at the bottom of the cup. Pour boiling water upon the solution till the cup is two-thirds or three-quarters full. A scum will rise to the surface, which must be removed and the solution allowed to cool.

Dose,—Tablespoonful three times a day till relieved.

The rationale of the operation of this simple remedy will readily occur to the pathologist, and in many hundred cases I have never known it to fail in dysentery and protracted diarrhœa.

A VETERAN Jackson Democrat rings out this stirring appeal:

Sir—General Grant is a Jackson Democrat and so am I. He can stamp his foot on Wade Hampton, as Jackson did on Calhoun. A still tonge makes a wise head. The hand that writes this voted for General Jackson at his last term. Now the hero's ashes in the grave would be ashamed of the party that call themselves Democrats. No trifling with men's souls that have laid down their lives for us! THOS. B. CLARKE.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Linaments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should at once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and stimulates them to a healthy and vigorous action

MEDICAL HINTS FOR THE FALL.

The semi-annual shaking in the fever and ague districts has begun. The fogs of these autumn nights and mornings are surcharged with the elements of intermittent and bilious remittent fevers, and, unfortunately, two-thirds of the community are just in the condition to be disastrously affected by them. Those who have been prudent enough to fortify themselves during the summer with that powerful and infallible vegetable invigorant -HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—are fore-armed against malaria, and have nothing to fear. But health is the last thing too many think about. In the pursuit of gain or pleasure the blessing, without which wealth is dross and enjoyment impossible, is neglected.

Better late than never is a consolatory proverb, however, and all who begin to feel the premonitory symptoms of any of the epidemics which are engendered by the malaria of autumn, should immediately resort to the GREAT ANTIDOTE OF THE AGE. A few doses of the BITTERS will break up the chills and prevent their recurrence. In every region where intermittents prevail this purest and best of all vegetable tonics is indispensable. Of all antibilious preparations known it is the most effective and harmless. It does not stimulate the liver violently, like the mineral salivants, but tones, renovates and regulates the organ without creating any general disturbance of the system or entailing any reaction. The Bitters are essentially a household specific, and should be always within reach as the very best means of preventing and checking bilious attacks and intermittent fevers.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

It cures almost instantly, acting directly upon the nervous system, invigorating, exhilerating, surprisingly but pleasantly affecting the mind. ☞THE COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS on behalf of the Soldiers and Sailors of Western Penna.

WILL MEET AT

CITY HALL,

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 9th, at 3 o'clock P. M.,

To devise and arrange a programme for the Grand Union Republican Mass Convention to be held at Allegheny City, Sept. 24th. Prompt attendance is requested. By order of se9:x11 CHAIRMAN.

☞MEETING OF SOLDIERS.

To all Honorably Discharged Soldiers and Sailors.

COMRADES: At an informal gathering of a few soldiers, not politicians or partizans, the question was raised as to how soldiers would probably vote in the approaching election. Those assembled, though in times past divided in political sentiment, proved unanimous in support of Gen. GRANT. It was determined to issue an Address to our comrades, calling a meeting of all who desire the election of Gen. GRANT, with a view to concert of action. This conclusion was arrived at without consultation with any politician or political Executive Committee, and uninfluenced by suggestions from such parties.

When Treason dared to attempt the overthrow of our Government, and the disruption of the Union, we waited not to consult our former political parties or their leaders, or to see on which side our party might range itself, but we all—Democrats, Republicans and Bell-Everett men—sprang promptly to arms to save our common country from its foes. And now that the excitement of conflict is passed, the clash of arms hushed, our muskets and accoutrements laid aside, amid the comforts and quiet of home we look back on our patriotic course with pride, mingled only with tears over the memory of our fallen comrades; not one feeling of self reproach mars the retrospect, although we recollect that among our companions in arms were many who had been our political opponents, and among our foes were some whom we had revered and followed as political guides and oracles.

At the close of the war, some who had gone away Democrats returned Republicans, but not a few came home with the expectation of again acting and voting with the once glorious Democratic party—hoping and believing that it had seen and repented its errors. Some of us have, indeed, since our return, supported nominees of the Democratic party.

But now that another general election impends, it is our duty again to choose sides—not as partizans, but as patriots. A true Union soldier can never become a mere party man.

Realizing this, the undersigned address this Call to their fellow soldiers, not in behalf of a political party or its nominees, but in behalf of the Peace and Prosperity of our Nation, which are again threatened. Had the Democratic party spurned the dictation of Wade Hampton and his co-traitors, and offered us a loyal, honest, Union platform, with Hancock or some other candidate having a good war record, some of the undersigned would not have joined in issuing this call. But with such a platform and ticket, championed by Wade Hampton, Forrest, Semmes, Cobb, Toombs, Wise and other like traitors, we cannot hesitate as to our course. To say that the threats of these known enemies of the Union mean nothing is worse than folly; they proved themselves terribly in earnest before, and we have every reason to believe that they are equally so now.

Regarding this contest as a renewal of that we helped to decide in the field, we have once more laid aside all party feeling and have re-enlisted under the noble soldier who led us to victory after others had failed. Gen. GRANT is not and cannot become a party man—he is a true, earnest, faithful friend of the Union. The Republican party cannot claim him; though the nominee of that party, he is, in fact, the candidate of the true Union men of the Nation, just as Horatio Seymour is the candidate of the Southern traitors, Hampton, Forrest, Semmes & Co., though nominally the Democratic candidate.

We invite all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors in the county, who, though ever ready to fight for the Union, yet prefer peace to war, to meet us at CITY HALL, on THURSDAY EVENING, Sept. 10th, at 7 o'clock, to consider the expediency of organizing an Independent Veteran Corps. If deemed expedient, we propose to organize, not a Republican Club, but a Veteran Union Phalanx, to support GRANT, COLFAX AND PEACE.

Come out in your might, and show the rebels who threaten our country that the soldiers of the Union in Allegheny county are not to be intimidated or inveigled from duty.

"LET US HAVE PEACE!" se9:x12

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

FINANCE AND TRADE,

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
TUESDAY, September 8, 1868. }

All sorts of rumors are resorted to in order to advance the price of gold on those who sold short in expectation that the September payments would have a tendency to depress the premium. The imports of foreign merchandize continue large and 300,000 dollars is daily needed for custom-house purposes. The stock of gold in the banks is diminishing rapidly, and so far every thing favors higher quotations for gold although the large yield of grain, cotton and other products will keep a full supply of exchange, and no gold need be shipped before next January.

Government bonds keep firm especially the new issues which are bought up now or exchanged for old Five-Twenties of 1862 and 1865; the investment demand, however, is still light and there are more sellers then buyers from the West.

Stocks are merely kept up by cliques under the present easy money market; any change towards stringency, may bring down stock like a card house. Speculation in Railroad securities is very tame, and many of the usual operators have lost nearly all they made during the last six months. A few houses may combine and raise the rate for call loans by making money scarcer and a panic in stocks is inevitable; although the clique operators have shown more strength then anybody believed them to possess.

Express shares are on the wane, and are likely to go down much more.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 144⅛; Eighty-one's, 113½; Five Twenties, 1862, 113½; do, 1864, 109⅝; do, 1865, 111⅝; do,1865, new, 108¾; do, 1867, 108¾; do, 1868; 108⅞; Ten Forties, 105. —The past week has been one of much encouragement to business men, and the prospects for the fall trade are very promising. On all sides we see the hum of preparation, and the wealth of grain and cotton in the country will make the South and West ready buyers. We cannot expect to have a specimen of the great fall seasons of former years, because the whole plan of business has changed. Even after the railroads were introduced there used to be twice a year—in the fall and spring—a perfect avalanche of buyers from all sections of the Union, who would purchase enough to last them for the half year, but now the telegraph has changed all this. Instead of buying large quantities at one time, they order by wire a case as they need it, and the railroad carries it to them. This enables them always to keep their stock up without visiting the principal cities, and also avoids the risk of having a large stock of goods on hand in case prices decline. Formerly our business men were busy all night, as well as day, filling their orders and sending goods off. Now, nearly all the work can be done in the ordinary hours of labor, as the purchasers are more equitably distributed throughout the year. The cities, however, still have their busy periods, which occur at much the same time of the year as formerly. The excitement of the Presidential campaign may possibly delay the season, but the general opinion is that it will have very little effect.—Phila. Press.

—The past week has shown an active business in all branches of trade centering here. The receipts of grain continue at a daily average of over three hundred thousand bushels of corn, wheat, oats, barley and rye, which is about the full carrying capacity of the roads tapping the districts from which the crop is being marketed. The receipts from Wisconsin and Minnesota are, however, comparatively insignificant yet. During the week the movement of grain eastward has been very free, preventing any accumulation here, to which fact is, in one respect, due the ease with which the banks have worked through such a heavy business. The business in dry goods, groceries, lumber, etc., is now more active than at any time since last summer. The increase of trade is reflected in the aggregate of the week's business at the Clearing House, which, as shown below, is nearly double what it was five years ago, being a little over ten millions for the week ending August 1st.—Chicago Tribune, 7th.

CHICAGO, September 8.—Beef Cattle dull at $6,25a7 for good to smooth shipping steers. Hogs dull at $8,12½a8,70 for common; $9a9,45 for fair to medium, and $9a10,50 for good to smooth.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
TUESDAY, September 8, 1868. }

The decline in Flour and Wheat is about the only important characteristic noticeable in the general market to-day. Nor is it probable that the bottom has yet been reached, judging from present indications; with half a million of bushels of Grain going into Chicago daily, and the receipts in all of the leading markets in about the same ratio, still lower prices seem almost inevitable. The supply of Flour in Chicago is also unusually heavy, being fully six times larger than it was at this time last year, and the arrivals there for some days past have run from fifteen to sixteen thousand barrels.

APPLES—In consequence of diminished receipts, the market is considerably firmer and are now quoted at $3 to $4 per bbl.

POTATOES—Sales at $1,20 per bushel, and $3,50 per bbl. Jersey Sweets scarce and higher, $6,50 to $7 per bbl.

BUTTER—Prime to choice fresh packed is scarce and prices are still maintained, ranging from 37 to 40.

EGGS—Scarce and in better demand; we now quote fresh packed at 20 to 21c.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and in demand at $2,25 to $2,30. Timothy Seed is scarce and is held at $3,75 to $4, in a retail way. Clover Seed is nominal at $7,50 to $8.

HAY—Sales at Allegheny Diamond market of 49 loads at $23 to $34 per ton, according to quality

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged at 14 to 15c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 17 to 18c for Factory and Goshen and 20 for Sweitzer.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2, for small lots in store.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged. and there is but little inquiry aside from the mills; we continue to quote at $2,05 to $2,10 for Red, and 3 to 5c higher for White. Oats unchanged—sales of 2 cars at 65c—may be quoted at 68 to 70c, in store. Sale of 1 car mixed Corn at $1,12—prime Yellow is held at $1.15. Barley is scarce and wanted, and No. 1 Spring may be quoted strong at $2. Rye is quiet, with hardly enough doing to establish quotations; we quote $1,40 as the nominal price.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged, notwithstanding Lard is higher; we continue to quote No. 2 at $1,20, and No. 1 at $1,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady but unchanged at 14¼ to 14½c for Shoulders; 16½ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18½ to 18¾c for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is firm at 20c, in tierces, and 21½c, in kegs. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31,50.

MILL FEED—The demand is fair, and prices unchanged; the mills continue to quote at $1,10 for Bran; $1,30 for Shipstuffs, and $2 for Middlings.

FLOUR—The demand is fair, notwithstanding the market is weak, with a drooping tendency; it is a noticeable fact, however, that buyers, generally, are restricting their purchases as much as possible, in expectation of a still further reduction. The "Pearl" and "City Mills" continue to quote Extra Family at $10,50, in bbls and $10,20, in sacks; and Double Extra at $11, in barrels, and $10,70 in sacks. Rye Flour, $9 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
TUESDAY, September 8, 1868. }

CRUDE.

The market was again very quiet to-day, not a single sale reported, and while the feeling seemed to be a little offish, prices is as yet have undergone no quotable change. Spot oil is still held at 12, but for the present there are no buyers at that figure; indeed, as noted in our last report, twelve cents seems to be the asking price for any delivery between now and January 1st. From January until July, seller's option, 10 cents is the nominal price—there has been no sales for that particular delivery for some time, but the last sale reported was at the figure. There was a sale of 1,000 bbls reported at $4,50, on cars at Oil City.

REFINED.

The market was moderately active, the sales aggregating 5,500 bbls, but prices, as will be seen, are a shade lower. Sale of 2,000 bbls for first half of September at 30¾c; three lots of 500 each for October at 31c; 500 for November at 31c, and 500 each for September, October and November at 31¼c. At the close, it was reported that there were offers to sell November and December at 30½c, and we heard of 30⅜c being offered for immediate delivery. On cars here, standard white may be quoted at 27c, and prime light straw to white may be quoted at 25½c to 26c. The demand for home consumption is on the increase, and if it were not for Cleveland, there would doubtless be a good many orders flowing in from the west. Cleveland is able to monopolize the western trade, from the fact that she can ship cheaper than Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

A Sketch of Bombay—Street Scenes.

"Carleton," the lively correspondent of the Boston Journal, is writing some interesting letters from India. We quote below from one of them:

"Would that the farmers of New England, who, about these days, are driving their teams afield, could see how the Hindoos manage their oxen. Think of a pair of lean, lank kine, with horns eighteen inches long sticking straight up into the air, with a great hump on the back—over the shoulders a straight piece of round wood—a limb of a tree six inches in diameter for a yoke, four pins, each about ten inches long, driven through the yoke to keep it in place on the necks of the animals; ropes instead of bows—not lashed to the horns but tied round the necks; a cord in the nostrils of each ox, with reins attached; a two wheeled cart, with four seats, the driver sitting in front bare-headed, bare-armed, bare-footed, bare-legged, barely dressed in every respects—one bit of rag about the loins; three Hindoo passengers, as bare of clothing as himself, the oxen upon the trot or canter, the dusky Jehu handling the reins adroitly, turning sharp corners, picking his way through the crowd as easily and quickly as the hackmen of your city can thread their course on Washington street.

"The peninsula is wider here, and we soon reach the suburbs, where the Europeans and Parsees and rich native merchants live. We find broad avenues, as smooth as the sea beach, shaded by tropical trees in great variety. We pass stately palaces, surrounded by spacious gardens. We look up the long gravelled walks and behold the flowers of every hue—exotics of the temperate zone, mingled with the flora of the tropics—oleandas, magnolias, laburnums, acacias, oranges and lemons, honeysuckle, verbenas, roses, azalias, petunias, tiger-lilies—the entire flora of our greenhouses blooming in the open air; vines and creepers, clematis and jessamine climbing the walls, over-running summer houses; trees, wholly unlike those which we are accustomed to see—no elms, no maples, or gigantic oaks, but the tall and slender palm, the palmyra, the cocoanut, with their green plumes gracefully moving in the breezes, the banyan, a forest in itself, sending its new trunks down into the generous earth, spreading its branches far and wide, thickly throwing out its leaves, making a delightful shade; the India rubber tree, the teak, the fig and mango. The Parsee, as far as in him lies, makes his earthly home a Paradise. His palace is large and lofty. He has wide halls, deep verandahs and passage-ways running in all directions, so that, let the breeze come from the sea or the mountains, from the north or the south, it may sweep through his halls. The Parsees are the Yankees of the East—the business men who know the knack of making money. In another letter I shall have something more to say about them. They surpass the English in the elegance of their residences. Getting beyond the palaces and villas we come to the plains, reaching northward and eastward, bounded in the dim distance by mountains.

"In approaching the city from the sea, or looking down upon it from the hotel, we see few spires, towers and domes of churches, temples or public buildings, but a long reach of tiled roofs, wide streets, open lots, patches of green foliage, with few objects to attract special attention.

"I took an early walk before the sun was up this morning, and saw some queer scenes in the streets. The people were just rising—hundreds of them from the ground in front of their shops—men, women and children, where they had made their beds for the night. Some were still asleep, and I came near disturbing the slumbers of a young man, as I turned a corner, by falling over him. It does not take a Hindoo long to dress, especially when his only garment is a strip of cloth around the loins. The children, like those in many American homes, were up bright and early making mud pies. I noticed that they were not dressed quite well enough to make their appearance at a Sunday school. In a country where a father and mother make a strip of cloth of the size of a dish-wiper serve for full dress, it is not in the nature of things that their offspring should appear in coat, jacket and pants, or crinoline and trails like those which some young ladies of Boston use for sweeping the streets. The costumes of the ladies of the West—especially the ball-room dresses—have longer skirts and perhaps not quite so low in the neck, as the costumes worn by their sisters of India; but in the matter of jewelry the dark-featured ladies of this country can beat them all hollow.

"Take a look at this black-haired creature fondling a little ebony imp, the likeness of herself, in a doorway as we pass, a gold chain about her neck, gold charms of the size of a ten-dollar gold piece dangling from it, three silver bracelets on each wrist; an armlet of silver on each arm above the elbow; so many rings on her fingers that you cannot count them, anklets, huge and massive, upon each ankle; tolets of the same metal on her great toes; six gold rings with little bells attached in each ear; a gold brooch with a long pin thrust through the left nostril! Can any fair maiden in America exhibit so much jewelry? See how the fond mother has lavished her fortune, regardless of expense, upon the darling in her arms—rings on its toes, on its ankles, a silver chain clasping each of its chubby legs above the knee, a large chain of elaborate workmanship girding the loins, with charms and little silver bells attached, rings on its fingers, bracelets on its arms, another chain clasping the neck, rings in its ears, a jewel in its nose! Quite a display for a young girl who has not got round to her first birthday anniversary.

"The question is solved as to what becomes of the silver. India absorbs it. A love of jewelry is characteristic of men as well of women in India. The men wear bracelets and noserings. The population of the country is nearly one hundred and ninety millions, and it may be set down that each individual has, upon an average, four or five rings, bracelets or charms, usually of silver. There are at least ten hundred million ornaments among the natives, but no estimate can be made of their value. Through all ages India has swallowed up silver, and the absorbtion is as great to-day as ever. The coin of the country is wholly silver—rupees or half dollars. The native does not like a gold currency. Attempts have been made to introduce it, but without success."

THE LOSS by the recent fires in the Canada forests is computed at several millions of dollars. At Bisset's Creek, about 150 miles above Ottawa river, a large lumbering depot, comprising fifteen or sixteen buildings, has been utterly destroyed, with an immense stock of provisions, everything having been consumed except the pork, which was stored underground. On the Gatineau, too, the destruction has been most extensive, the townships of Lowe and Hincks, and some others, have been almost overrun by the devouring element. Similar devastations are reported on the north bank of the Upper Ottawa, and at several places throughout the Province of Quebec. Extensive fires are raging, also in the forests on the north shores of Lakes Huron and Superior.

An American in Peril.

The Journal de la Savoie reports an exciting adventure of an American traveler in Switzerland, which we translate:

"An American, who had prudently given up his ambition to scale the summit of Mont Blanc, on account of the unsettled weather, started back from the half-way house on the Grands Mulet with a German guide from Zermatt. The guide had refused, out of mere vain glory, to join a large company which left the same resting place a few minutes earlier.

"They soon came to one of those great 'crevasses' in the ice which can only be crossed on a ladder. Here the foot of the inexperienced tourist slipped, and he fell, the connecting rope dragging the guide also into the chasm. Fortunately it was just at a point where the crevice made a sharp corner, and by seizing a projecting point, and bracing himself against the sides with his arms and knees, he was able to stop himself, after a fall of sixteen or seventeen feet, and avoid dropping into the unfathomable abyss below. The traveler was unhurt, but the poor guide had his head badly cut against the sides of the crevice.

"He had retained his axe in hand; and now tried to cut steps in the slippery walls, so that they might climb out. But this was perilous work, and its success extremely doubtful. One mistake, one uncertain step might precipitate both into the depths below their narrow support.

"One of the guides of the company ahead, who had been chaffing the German guide on his rashness, was surprised that the travelers, who were following them so closely, did not come in sight again, and went back to see what had happened. Finding them in the crevice, he signaled to the guides and tourists of his company to return. They did so, and let their rope down to the unfortunates; who were put on their way home again in safety, the American, according to the guide who saved him, exhibited no trace of emotion whatever on his face."

The Drunkard's Cure.

Some months ago, says an exchange, a gentleman advertised that he had discovered a sure specific for the cure of drunkenness. He would not divulge the secret of what compounds he used, but furnished the medicine at so much per bottle. He did not have so many applicants for his cure as he expected, considering the extent of the disease. In fact, the more malignant cases did not seem anxious for relief. They rather appeared to enjoy the malady. A few, however placed themselves under treatment, and some were cured—whether by taking the medicine or by not taking strong drinks we are not prepared to say. One of the cured ones had faith in the medicine, rigidly carried out the directions of the doctor, and now has not the least taste for intoxicating drinks; whereas, one year ago he was an inebriate, and could not get along with less than a pint to a quart of whisky per day. He said that, at some trouble and expense, he had procured the receipt for the preparation of the medicine, which he had published for the benefit of suffering humanity. It is as follows: Sulphate of iron, five grains, peppermint water, eleven drachms; spirit of nutmeg, one drachm, twice a day. This preparation acts as a tonic and stimulant; and so partially supplies the place of the accustomed liquor, and prevents that absolute physical prostration that follows a sudden breaking off from the use of stimulating drinks. It is to be taken in quantities equal to an ordinary dram and as often as the desire for a dram returns. Any druggist can prepare the prescription.

It is said this preparation will soon remove all longing for intoxicating drinks. Try it, you who honestly wish to break away from a habit which is hurrying you to a drunkard's grave.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

700 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. 160 miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, car-shops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office, in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

The Tombs were occupied by only a few ordinary lodgers last evening.

The Race.--A special train of cars will be run to and from the boat race on the Connellsville Railroad to-day.

Serious Charge.—Mary Keyser made information yesterday before Alderman Taylor against Mathias Matza, charging him with fornication and bastardy. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Worth a Trial.—It is said that pennyroyal in leaf or essence, or common vinegar, scattered around a room, will cause those active little fellows, the fleas, to flee immediately from the locality.

Narrow Escape.—On Monday evening a brick fell from the scaffolding on the Cathedral tower, striking the ground between two young men who were passing, and narrowly escaped serious injury.

Fined.—Mayor Drum yesterday morning imposed a fine of five dollars each on a party of four men who had been intoxicated on the evening previous, and attempted to raise a disturbance at the Democratic meeting in the Diamond.

Libeled.--The steamer Great Republic was libled in St. Louis on Monday. Her captain and clerk will be tried for murder on the 20th inst. Donaldson is indicted as principal in the shooting of the negro deck hand and Barr as accessory to the deed.

Young Mens' Christian Association.--The Young Mens' Christian Association held a meeting in the lecture room of the Third Presbyterian Church last evening, but as it was strictly one of a private nature, connected with the interests of the Association, we are without particulars.

Committed.—Elizabeth Griffiths was arrested and in default of $500 bail committed to jail yesterday, charged with fornication, on oath of Jane Wagoner. The information upon which the arrest was made was lodged before Alderman Strain some time ago, but the accused escaped the officer until yesterday.

Verdict.—The coroners' jury in the inquest on the body of W. Cupps, who was so mysteriously shot on Saturday evening last, by a ball passing through the window of his residence, and striking him, last night made a verdict that the "deceased met with his death by a bullet wound fired from a pistol in the hands of some unknown person."

Three.—John Jones seemed to be in an informing mood yesterday. He lodged three different informations before Alderman Strain against parties for selling liquor on Sunday. George Bender, Mrs. Lafferty and Mary Joice are the alleged law-breakers. Warrants were issued, upon which the accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Alleged Reckless Driving.—Alderman McMasters yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of Christ. Doen, Fred. Ortman, Francis Spreen and W. Voight charged on oath of Patrick Divine with reckless driving. It is alleged that the defendants drove a flour wagon over deponent's son, in South Pittsburgh, breaking his arm and otherwise injuring him.

We are indebted to Dr. Jackson, the old war horse, for a copy of his "Life of Gen. Grant." This valuable book, which the Doctor himself acknowledges is "the people's guide," contains, besides the life of the General, a short biography of the distinguished author and a list of the churches in Pittsburgh. Such a combination of attractions is certainly inducement enough to make everybody buy it.

Another Gone.—Capt. M. Munhall, of the firm of Munhall & McGraw, a gentleman universally known and respected in this community, was yesterday united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Sadie McGraw, daughter of the late Hugh McGraw, and one of the fairest, most gifted and talented young ladies of our sister city. The happy couple have our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for their future welfare.

Lectures by Punshon.--This prince among living English lecturers, Rev. Wm. Morley Punshon, M. A., is engaged to deliver two lectures in October, at the Keystone Rink in Allegheny. Tickets, with reserved seats, can now be had at the office of the Christian Advocate, No. 72 Third street. The reputation of the lecturer is world-wide. No other opportunity to hear him may ever be enjoyed by the citizens of Pittsburgh. 2

Larceny as Bailee.—Jacob Frach, a resident of Monongahela City, made information yesterday against Seth Bentley for larceny as bailee. Frach states that he was a witness in a case at Uniontown in July, 1867, and that his fees amounted to twelve dollars, which he authorized Bentley to collect. Bentley did so, and has never returned the amount to him. The accused was arrested and gave bail for trial at the Washington County Court.

A Lively Prisoner.—Annie Crowley made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday against Mrs. Brown for assault and battery. Annie alleges that the defendant, who is nearly sixty years of age, commenced operations by giving her a tongue lashing, and proceeded from that to knock her down, bruise her body, relieve her of any superfluous hair, and winding up by drenching her with a bucket of water. The accused was arrested, but while en route for the magistrate's office she managed to escape and was seen no more.

Personal.—Rev. Alex. Clark, A. M., the efficient pastor of the First Methodist Church, Pittsburgh, has received a unanimous official call to the Pastorate of a prominent Presbyterian Church in the State of Michigan. It is, of course, declined, in the same fraternal spirit in which it was extended, Mr. Clark having been recalled to his present charge. We congratulate the First Church in being able to retain him, as his success among them during the past two years has proved his efficiency as a Gospel minister.

Such occurrences as the above are indications of better times coming. Denominational calls are crumbling down, and they are acknowledging each other's authority to preach the Gospel and the validity of their ordination, and that they belong to the some grand army of Christ.

Departure of Delegates.

A delegation from the Neptune Fire Company, numbering about thirty-nine members, left yesterday morning on the Panhandle Railroad for Sandusky, Ohio, to participate in the tournament to be held at that place to-morrow. Their apparatus was sent on several days since. Delegations from the Relief and Niagara followed last evening. The boys expect to return home about Saturday, and will no doubt have a very pleasant visit.

A Kind Husband.

William Ellis, of Birmingham, was before Mayor Blackmore yesterday, charged with attempting to kill his wife. It is said that Ellis and his wife were taking a skiff ride on the Monongahela river, and that when near the Pittsburgh shore he knocked her down on the bottom of the skiff and threatened to shoot her. Several persons who were in the vicinity noticing the affair called an officer, and the man was arrested. He was committed for trial in default of one thousand dollars bail.

Alleged Libellous Proceeding.

A warrant was issued yesterday morning by the Mayor for the arrest of a well known photographer of this city, charged with libel on oath of a prominent citizen. The offence consists, according to the allegation, in taking the photograph of the deponent's sister, a young lady, and subsequently from the "negative" of the picture taking a photograph of the head and affixing thereto the photograph of a little boy's body. It is further alleged that copies of this picture have been circulated, thus bringing the fair lady into ridicule. The accused has not yet been arrested.

More Rowdyism.

On Monday evening, while returning from participation in the reception of Hon. John Sherman, the Twelfth ward Grant and Colfax Club were assailed by a party of roughs at the corner of Penn and Fifteenth streets, who treated them to a shower of stones, bricks and other missiles. One of the members of the Club, James Clocker, was struck on the back of the head with a stone and so severely injured that he had to be carried to his home on Twenty-first street. He was living at latest accounts, but almost paralyzed, and but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Death of an Estimable Young Lady.

Miss Libbie Ramsey, daughter of Col. J. B. Ramsey, died at Uniontown on Monday last, after a long and painful illness. She was an estimable young lady, of more than ordinary worth and intelligence. The possession of a large and generous heart, kind and charitable in her disposition and winning and agreeable in her ways, she was ever surrounded by a large circle of warm and appreciative friends. During her illness she never murmured, but with the prayer of submission on her lips, "God's will be done," her soul winged its way to heaven, to dwell forever in the happiness of eternity.

Supplied Themselves.

Alexander McGowan made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, against Turner B. Aber and W. Large, charging them with the larceny of a lot of groceries valued at $8,85. McGowan, who resides in Baldwin township, states he was in the city yesterday and purchased a lot of groceries. On his way home he stopped at the White Hall Tavern, on the Brownsville pike, to take a drink. While inside the house, he alleges, the accused ransacked his wagon, which was standing at the door, taking away the articles to the amount mentioned. A warrant was issued.

An Annoying Practice.

The residents of the Second ward, Allegheny, in the vicinity of the outer depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, have been considerably annoyed by the shrieking, screeching noise caused by engineers of the Railroad blowing the whistles on their respective locomotives unnecessarily. Yesterday an engineer of the Cleveland and Erie road, which company shares in the use of the depot, was fined five dollars by Mayor Drum on complaint of a citizen in the neighborhood. Doubtless in the future the practice, which is very annoying, will be stopped, or at least abated in a measure to comply with the ordinance.

Robbery in the Allegheny Market.

Mrs. Captain Wm. Dean, while attending the Allegheny market yesterday morning, was robbed of her pocket book containing four valuable rings and about fifteen dollars in money. In making some trifling purchase from a peddler, and after paying for the articles, started away. She proceeded but a short distance, when she discovered her loss, and on repairing to the spot where she had made the purchase, the peddler and pocket book were both gone. The rings included a ruby, diamond, topaz and emerald, the whole worth between four and five hundred dollars, and highly prized as soveneirs. The pocket book may have been dropped by the lady, and if so, perhaps it will be returned. The most probable supposition is that the peddler made off with it.

The Boat Race—No Referee Yet.

The conference at the Monongahela House last evening was pretty much barren of results. Brown was represented by his friend Tyler and Coulter by Alexander Murray. Several hours were spent in endeavoring to agree upon a referee. The three gentlemen named by Coulter all declined to serve, and Mr. Tyler named Mr. Colville, of the New York Clipper. Murray objected, Tyler insisted, and at length the conference adjourned, to be resumed this morning at nine o'clock.

It has been agreed to have the race at half-past four, instead of between five and six, as the packets going up at five will disturb the water too much.

Coulter has not yet decided on his judges, but it is probable that Mr. R. C. Elliott will be one.

Still Another.

"The fools are not all dead yet" is a trite, but nevertheless true, observation, in support of which each succeeding day adds its numerous illustrations. The latest of these which has come within our knowledge, is that of Joseph Plawch, who was "plucked" by one of those oily tongued, well dressed, and respectable appearing chaps whose chief business is to keep a lookout for individuals of Joseph's proclivities.

The circumstances of the affair, as related by the victim, are as appended: He had just arrived in the city from Somerset county, of this State, en route to Cedar Rapids, Iowa. At the Union Depot he made the acquaintance of a very clever, sociable young man, who, after learning his destination, remarked that he was bound for the same place. Clever young man said he had an establishment in Cedar Rapids, and was in Pittsburgh buying goods. The goods were up at the Adams Express Company's depot, corner of Grant and Seventh streets, and if his friend would like a walk they would go up and see about them. No objection being made the two started out, and on arriving at the depot the clever young man went in, telling his friend to wait outside for him. When he came out he was short just one hundred and thirty dollars, which must be paid before the goods were moved, and if his friend would lend him the amount for about half an hour, as soon as the goods were shipped he would get a check he had cashed at the bank and return the money. The money was loaned, and by direction of his clever acquaintance Joseph went down to the depot to watch some other goods marked Smith, which was the name of his new found companion, that gentleman, in the meantime, going to the bank for the purpose of getting the aforementioned check cashed. After waiting till his patience was exhausted Joseph began to think a little; his reflections, aided by the facts, leading him to the sage conclusion that he had been—well, mistaken in his judgment of one man at least. He made known the circumstances and his conclusion to officers Rook and Havis at the Depot, who entirely agreed with him, but could offer no consolation. After waiting round for a while, and seeing no way to recover his funds, Joseph departed on his journey westward a sadder but certainly, in some things, a wiser man.

POLITICAL.

Meeting in Lorenzburg—Grand Rally—Speeches by Messrs. Humphreys, Ewing, and Morris.

The Republicans of Lorenzburg, Chartiers township, held a large and enthusiastic meeting at their new wigwam last evening. The Temperanceville Glee Club was in attendance and enlivened the occasion with several happy selections, which received great applause.

At seven and a half o'clock an organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President—Robert Hodgson.

Vice Presidents—S. F. Von Bonhorst, A. McCartney, W. M. Grace, W. Barnes, J. P. McIntyre.

Secretary—Capt. Jas. S. Graham.

Eloquent and able addresses were delivered by Messrs. Miles Humphreys, Thomas Ewing and J. H. Morris, all of whom were loudly applauded.

During the progress of the meeting the Temperanceville and Chartiers Grant Clubs marched up, and were greeted with hearty cheers.

The meeting adjourned at a late hour with three rousing cheers for the loyal candidates, Grant and Colfax.

Meeting in the Sixth Ward—Enthusiastic Attendance—Addresses by Messrs. McCune and Moreland.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans in the Sixth ward took place last evening at the corner of Magee street and Pennsylvania avenue.

A neat and commodious speakers' stand had been erected, which was decorated with evergreen and illuminated by Chinese lanterns, presenting a very handsome appearance. At intervals, during the meeting, a brass band discoursed excellent music, which added materially to the success of the affair.

Previous to the organization, the Grant and Colfax Clubs of the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards marched up and took their places in front of the stand after which the meeting was organized by the election of the following officers:

President—Samuel Morrow.

Vice Presidents—E. S. Hamilton, Lewis Kerr, H. J. Thomas, John McMinn, Henry Tatnall, D. B. Miller, James Ewing, R. U. Roberts.

Secretaries—F. P. Case, John Everson, W. Neems, J. R. Wilson.

The President returned thanks for the honor conferred, and introduced Mr. Samuel McCune, who addressed the audience for about an hour on the Reconstruction policy of Congress and the financial platform of the Republican party. The speaker's remarks were listened to with attention, and at the close elicited hearty applause.

W. C. Moreland, Esq., was the next speaker. Mr. Moreland dwelt particularly on the records of the two parties, during and since the war, and closed with an elegant comparison between the candidates Grant and Colfax and Seymour and Blair, which was received by the audience with prolonged applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. Moreland's speech the meeting adjourned with three rousing cheers for the national ticket.

Grant Hussars.

A large meeting of those favorable to the formation of a regiment of "Grant Hussars" was held at Professor Cowper's Hall, in McCallum's Building, on Fifth street, last evening. Gen. William Blakely presided, with Mr. S. J. McFarren as Secretary. A Constitution and set of by-laws were adopted, in which the name of "Grant Hussars" was adopted, and the minimum and maximum of companies to compose the regiment fixed at fifty and one hundred men. Major W. B. Stokes was appointed Captain of artillery with authority to raise as strong a force as possible. A roll was opened and some sixty persons signed their names as members. A uniform was adopted, a blouse, bronze belt and cap and ordinary pants, which will cost inside of two dollars. The following gentlemen were appointed a Finance Committee: Messrs. Gen. Wm. Blakely, Capt. Alex. McCallum, Major W. B. Stokes, Lieut. S. T. McFarren, J. P. Logan, S. N. Thompson, D. Dunseath, Geo. W. Walker, A. English and T. P. Houston.

After the transaction of other business, including the appointment of Messrs. Col. McClung, Capt. Scott Schoonmaker and Lieut. S. J. McFarren as an Executive Committee, the meeting adjourned till to-night at the same place. Papers for enlistment were made out and distributed, and it is hoped by to-night that five hundred names will be reported. Manchester has already an equipped company in the field. We urge large attendance at the meeting to-night, as it is proposed to hold the first parade on Wednesday night next, and a complete organization it is hoped will be effected before that time.

Grant and Colfax Meeting at Connellsville.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The meeting at this place on Friday evening last was a success beyond all expectation. The people regardless of party, or the Copperhead meeting called expressly to keep the unterrified away, turned out en masse to hear the great questions of liberty against slavery, peace against war, discussed by those sterling men, Hons. Thomas M. Marshall and B. F. Lucas, of Pittsburgh. Large delegations of people on horseback, in buggies and wagons, on foot and by rail, poured in from the mountains and valleys.

Hon. B. F. Lucas took the stand, and for an hour and a quarter held the crowd with the telling truths of the real objects of the Democratic party. He reviewed the history of James Buchanan and the Democratic party in times of peace, borrowing twelve millions of dollars and paying for it twelve per cent., and compared the action of the Republican party under the lead of Abraham Lincoln, who found the arsenals robbed, the Treasury empty, and the country in actual war, without munitions or money, borrowing from the people upon its own bonds all the money it needed at six per cent., knowing that the people had more confidence in the Republican party in times of war by one-half than in the Democratic party in times of peace.

Hon. T. M. Marshall followed in one of those happy, telling speeches that no other man than he can make. The Democratic doctrine, "Nigger and Greenbacks," was well illustrated. He said it was "Nigger Broiled, Nigger Stewed, Nigger Fried," and if they had a fourth meal it was "Nigger Sliced Down Cold," and that Seymour thought as much of a buck nigger in New York worth two hundred and fifty dollars as he did of a Copperhead, for the nigger could vote then. The Prodigal son was well shown up—in place o asking their portion they stole it; from going into a free country they went into war. As to the food they ate, he supposed it to be the same. Before the war was over, instead of coming back and falling before their father, Grant brought them back by the neck. Instead of saying they had sinned against High Heaven and in His sight, they went to New York and demanded their rights under the Constitution, and Frank Blair was given them as the fatted calf. Never before in this stronghold of Cops was such an impression made. The Republicans and better class of Democrats rejoiced, but there is a lower order that looked as black as if some one had hit them in the face with a smut-bag. With the exception of a few rowdies that hung upon the out skirts, and who couldn't keep still if their grandmothers were dead, the meeting was orderly, and listened for three hours to the telling truths as they fell like thunder-bolts upon the rebellious. At the close of the meeting Col. John Collins, in behalf of the ladies of Connellsville, presented Marshall and Lucas with a beautiful wreath of three flowers, which were received in a neat and appropriate speech by Mr. Lucas.

The Republicans of that section of Fayette are alive, and good news may be expected from them in October next. I learned that accessions are being made to the party, and none are leaving. Men who have bonds don't like to vote them away, nor does the laboring man want the doors of the mill and workshop locked up.

On Saturday evening a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican citizens of Union Township was held. The following organization was effected: President, B. Young, Esq.; Vice Presidents, Col. Wm. Espy, Philip Stephens; Secretaries, George Neeld and William McDonald. The meeting was entertained by the splendid Martial band of Banksville and the campaign minstrel Pope who sung several popular airs. Able and argumentative speeches were made by Gen. James S. Negley and Major A. M. Brown. After three cheers for Grant, Colfax and Negley the meeting adjourned,

THE COURTS.

U. S. District Court—Judge M'Candless.

On the opening of the Court yesterday morning, the case of the United States vs. Wm. H. Fryer, indicted for embezzling a "registered" letter from the mail, was resumed.

In the bankruptcy branch petitions for final discharge were filed by Adolphus Barkhardt, of Pittsburgh; James Baxter, Allegheny; John S. Wiley, of Cameron county and R. J. Morrison, of Erie county.

A petition for adjudication in bankruptcy was filed by George L. McClintock, of Pittsburgh.

On Saturday last a motion for a preliminary injunction restraining J. Henry Isham, of Titusville, from manufacturing torpedoes for oil wells, was argued by Wm. Bakewell, Esq., for the complainant, and B. F. Lucas, Esq., for respondent. The complainant, E. A. L. Roberts, is the patentee of the celebrated torpedo known as Roberts' torpedo, which is now being used in oil wells with great success. The respondent has been engaged in the manufacture of a torpedo which Roberts claims is an infringement upon his patent, and proceedings in equity have been instituted. Pending this suit a preliminary injunction was made. Yesterday morning Judge McCandless granted an injunction, to remain in force until further directions, restraining Isham from infringing on the patent.

Preparing for the Fall Trade—The Wholesale and Retail Trimming and Notion House of Joseph Horne & Co., 77 and 79 Market Street.

In preparation for the Fall trade, which has opened up quite brisk and lively, our merchants have been strengthening themselves with heavy stocks wherewith they will be enabled to meet the large demands which will undoubtedly be made upon them this season by city and country dealers. Trade will no doubt be better during the forthcoming four months than we have experienced in the last decade of years, as the smaller dealers have been purchasing as little in the past as they could well get along with, acting on conservative principles in buying and trusting for the markets to settle. That point has been reached, and the prices at which wholesale houses start this season will hardly be reduced and probably increased before the incoming year of 1869.

WHO ARE PREPARED.

Prominent amongst the houses fully prepared for a larger trade is the old and favorably known firm of Joseph Horne & Co., wholesale and retail dealers in trimmings, notions, &c., Nos. 77 and 79 Market street. The purchasing of this establishment for the supply of its large and annually increasing trade has consumed considerable time, and is now about complete for the opening of trade. The stock is one of the most carefully selected and varied ever opened west of the Allegheny mountains, and will most certainly meet the requirements of all dealers who buy to sell again. The firm have long possessed superior advantages in the purchasing of the goods peculiar to their line of business, and are prepared to offer home customers inducements both in selection and price which cannot better be procured in the leading Eastern trade marts. Buying for cash, and in large quantities at a time, the firm obtain these advantages which they can afford to share with their patrons.

THE STOCK.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of looking through the various apartments and found them teeming with goods, and notwithstanding the recent additions made to their commodious store facilities, every room seemed too small for the proper accommodation of the immense invoices received. It is hardly necessary to enumerate—hardly possible we might say—the various articles which go to make up the great extent of goods to be found in Horne & Co's salesrooms; but we will cite full lines of real Paris pattern bonnets and hats, in all the new shapes; ribbons, all shades, No. 1½ to 60; French and American flowers, roses, buds and leaves, hat and bonnet feathers and birds, plaid and plain bonnet velvets, gro de nap, bonnet satins, French ornaments, frames, &c; Embroideries, a large assortment of jaconet and Hamburg edgings; Insertings and bands of the latest designs; Handkerchiefs, one of the largest assortments in the city of hem-stitched, embroidered and plain, lace goods, berthas, collars, coiffeurs, barbes, English thread, cluny, maltese, val, pointe and pointe applique lace, lace illusion for waists, something new; Hosiery, gloves, corsets, hoopskirts, bal. skirts, the Paris "la belle" balmoral; Shetland shawls, breakfast shawls, opera hoods, children's knit caps and sacques; new styles of dress and cloak trimmings, chenille, bullion and bugle fringe, bead trimmings, gimps and loops; buttons, in great variety; colored velvet ribbons; "the star shirt," white and colored; gent's furnishing goods, neck ties, bows, scarfs, suspenders and paper collars; notions and small wares. Each department will be found well stocked with all that is new and novel, and will be offered at the lowest Eastern prices.

While wholesale dealers have the amplest margin allowed them for profit, the retail patrons of the house will proportionately share in the reasonable prices and unusual choice and variety. The departments are all in charge of accommodating clerks, and those wishing either to purchase or look through the stock will receive all proper courtesy and attention. Country dealers, pedlers and city merchants can rest assured that they can purchase at no place in the East to better and, all things considered, to as good advantage as at this home establishment.

Immense Bargains—Absolute Sacrifice of Goods.

Pittsburgh is rightly excited over the announcement made that the immense stock of fashionable boots, shoes and gaiters, for men, women and children at the auction house emporium of H. B. Smithson & Co., Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, will be exposed for a brief season to a sacrificing and absolute sale, as all lines must be closed out at once. The firm have received the entire stock of an Eastern bankrupt house and are prepared to offer such bargains as never before were heard of in this section of country. The prices are so low that they make criminals of those people who refuse to wear the best boots, shoes and gaiters in the market, and after such a season of cheap goods, no bare-footed urchin should be seen on the streets. Nor is this all. The firm, in order to make the sale a success, have determined to sell all the remainder of their stock, previous to the late arrival, at prime cost, and their cost prices, it must be remembered, are away down below the inside cost of manufacture. We cannot fully impress on our readers the great advantages to be obtained by patronizing this house during the continuance of this extraordinary private sale. The stock is not old or out of style, but fresh from the manufacturers, and in every respect first class. Country dealers will find that they can purchase at the Smithsonian Institute of Great Bargains, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, at prices which they will deem incredulous. Do not fail to take advantage of the sale, for it is a phenomenon in business life and may never again happen. A visit to the commodious salesrooms and an inquiry into the prices will convince all that no where else in this country do lower prices prevail for such lines of good and substantial goods.
